

How to Section a Rio Star Grapefruit

1.

Cut both ends off.

2.

Lay the grapefruit on one of the flat sides, and cut away the peel from top to bottom along curvature of the fruit.

3.

Continue cutting around the grapefruit following the line of the skin. Make sure all skin is removed.

4.

Make sure to remove all of this white membrane. It is tart and bitter.

5.

Run your knife along the membrane and cut down towards the center of the fruit. When you get to the center, rotate your knife and cut upwards towards the outside of the grapefruit.

6.

The section will pop out like this! Make sure no dividing membrane is on the section. Keep going until you have the whole entire grapefruit sectioned.
